LEARN IT!

Picture This!

Paul, Aquila and Priscilla

God created us to have fellowship with others. When Paul was traveling on a missionary journey in Greece, he came upon a man and his wife named Aquila and Priscilla in the city of Corinth. Quickly, Paul became a close friend of Aquila and Priscilla's because they were tentmakers just like Paul had been. Paul helped them by telling them about God. Priscilla and Aquila loved God and others very deeply by putting to good use the things that Paul had taught them. They even had a chance to travel with Paul and spread God's Word. In those days, people held church in their homes. Aquila and Priscilla used their home as a place for people to come and learn about God. It is easy to imagine that anywhere Aquila and Priscilla lived would be a real place of fellowship. (Source: Acts 18)

Do This!

God wants us to have good friends who help us do good things. We can be a good friend to others, too. When we treat others with kindness and encourage them, we are being good friends. Fellowship means getting along with others and enjoying being a part of God's family.

Practice Point:

I will spend time with others, then you will see,
What God wants to do through you and me!
